

HOLLAND HALL THE PUB

serving a selection of elegant starters, contemporary pub classics, stone baked pizzas & gourmet burgers, you will be sure to find your new favourite our food is cooked fresh to order, please be patient during busy times when holland hall was built, there were only 25 countries discovered in the world now there are...195...and we're still standing - we are holland hall - est. 1654 our history

we are a 17th-century grade II listed building proudly retaining much of our original 'holland house' - baroque features, like the pedimented door and the boardroom which was uncovered during renovations when a wall revealed a stunning fireplace and wattle & daub

In 1966, our owner, bill kenyon, brought his wife here on their first date and with no staff, guests helped themselves and recorded purchases in an honesty book, bill's fond memories led him to become the proprietor a two-mile tunnel beneath the pub links the hall to the church - once used by priests for escape, it is still visible through a glass floor above the cellar renovations uncovered hidden staircases, tunnels and priest-holes, including one behind a wardrobe in the priory suite, where a coat hood with cassock tassels remains many more surprising discoveries are still to be found...
